Amendment to the Judicial Code", by M. Minnette Massey. University of Miami Review, Fall, 1958, pp. 63-68. (An effort to combat court congestion.)

"Effect of Court Administrative Procedures in Wayne County", by Jeptha W. Schureman. The Detroit Lawyer, December, 1958, pp. 143-145. (Pre-trial procedures cut delay.)

"Arbitration: An Obvious Solution To A Crowded Docket", by Harry J. Dworkin. Ohio State Bar Association Report, December 29, 1958, pp. 1124-1131.

"Los Angeles Court Uses Written Pre-Trial Statements, Non-Jury Panel of Judges, Standard Jury Charges As Major Measures To Cut Calendar Delay. Writer Suggests Possible Adoption in Cuyahoga County", by Hon. William L. Thomas. The Journal of the Cleveland Bar Association, November, 1958, pp. 3, 11-16.

"The Judicial Council of Florida", by Elwyn Thomas. Federal Rules Decisions, October, 1958. (The Council has effectively met the challenge of proposing improvements of the judicial process to the state legislature.)

"Ten Years of Progress: The Conference of Chief Justices", by John R. Dethmers. American Bar Association Journal, January, 1959, pp. 47-49, 97. (The work of the Conference for the first ten years of its existence is summarized, and some of the major problems facing the courts now are discussed.)

Jury

"Should Instructions Go Into the Jury Room?", by Thomas J. Cunningham. Journal of the State Bar of California, May, June, 1958, pp. 278-289. (California should adopt legislation to make instructions available in the jury room in civil cases as is now done in criminal cases.)

"The Jury, The Law, and The Personal Injury Damage Award", by Harry Kalven, Jr. The University of Chicago, The Law School Record, vol. 7, no. 2, pp. 6-1, 55. (Damages even more than negligence itself is law written by the jury.)

---

Index to Volume 42

Previous volumes of the Journal are indexed in two separately-printed cumulative indices, one covering Volumes 1 through 20 and another covering Volumes 21 through 40. Copies of these will be mailed without charge upon request. The second is now in preparation, and announcement will be made in the Journal when it is ready for distribution.

Authors

Alessandroni, Walter E.—Philadelphia experience with arbitration, 25-27.
Allison, Junius L.—He needs a lawyer now, 113-119.
Bohan, L. Stewart—New hope for Connecticut court reorganization, 126-127.
Chandler, Henry P., Edward B. McConnell, and Leland L. Tolman, as reported by Eleanor R. Batson—Administering the courts—federal, state and local, 13-19.
Childs, Richard S.—Fewer coroners in Michigan (letter), 175.
Cobb, Charles W, Jr.,—Minority races on the bench (letter), 207.
Coogan, Robert A.—Security of tenure for judges is Rhode Island bar project, 127-128.
Cooley, Rita W.—The Department of Justice and judicial nominations, 86-90.
Demer, Robert J.—270 insurance companies arbitrate inter-company claims, 92-94.
Drinan, Robert F.—The responsibility of the lawyer to his profession, 192-195.
Editorials—Defending our boundaries, 3-4. Judicial selection is fundamental, 39-40. The Women Voters, 111. 1959—a banner year for judicial reform, 147-148. Above suspicion, 148-149. Professional responsibility, 149. Law, liberty and weightlessness, 183. Virginia celebrates advent of common law, 184.
Eulenberg, Alexander—Lawyers and jury service (letter), 68.
Field, Richard H.—State-wide procedural reform—how to go about it, 120-124.
Grayson, L. A.—Counsel for the indigent defendant (letter), 207-208.
Harley, Herbert—Quotation and photograph, 72.
Hoover, J. Edgar—F.B.I. strives to protect the individual's rights (letter) 207.
Jones, William—What constitutes a state? (poem) 108.
Journal of Commerce, Seattle—A service of inestimable value (guest editorial), 41.
Karas, Jonathan—Science in court, 186-191, 195.
Kaufman, Irving R. Pre-trial in criminal cases, 150-154, 173.
Kenison, Frank R.—New Hampshire gets probate rules, abolishes justice court jurisdiction, 126.
Kohn, Louis A.—Modern courts for Illinois, 42-51.
Kottnauer, J. F. The practice of law (letter), 68.
Kurland, Philip B.—The distribution of judicial power between national and state courts, 159-164.
Laws, Bolitha J.—Quotation and photograph, 144.
Lincoln, Abraham—Quotation and drawing, 180.
Lindemann, Harry W.—Juvenile court publicity and the Campanella case, (guest editorial), 184-185.
Medina, Harold R.—On judicial retirement, 24-25.
Million, Elmer M.—The Lounsberry will, (letter), 104.
Nims, Harry D.—Something of interest (letter), 208.
Olney, Warren III—The administrative office of the United States courts, 78-85.
Opheim, Charlotte J.—More on judicial selection in Sweden (letter) 67.
Prem, Daulat Ram—A beacon light (letter), 175.
Shipley, Carl L., A debt of honor, (letter), 207. Judges and politics (letter), 103-104.
Simmons, David A.—Quotation and photograph, 216.
Stewart, Thomas B.—A model judiciary for the 49th state, 52-53 & 56-59
Sullivan, Thomas P.—Public defender before indictment (letter), 175.
Uhlenhopp, Harvey—Selection of chief justices, 22-24.
Utley, Clifton M.—To practice better democracy (guest editorial), 40-41.
Vogl, Albert L.—Checks and balances (letter), 103.
Voorhees, Theodore—The case for the clients' security fund, 155-158.
Walsh, Walter E.—Alaska's opportunity (letter), 68.
Warren, Earl—Delay and congestion in the federal courts, 6-12.
Washington Post and Times-Herald—Bigger penalties for the poor (guest editorial), 112.
Waterman, Sterry R.—Vermont bar adopts indemnity plan, proposes judicial selection change, 128.
Winters, Glenn R.—See editorials.
Wright, Elias A.—A step in the right direction (letter), 103.

Lawyers

Legal education
Stason proposes four-year law curriculum, 63.
Professional responsibility, editorial, 149.
The Practice of Law
Abraham Lincoln, quotation and drawing, 180.
New Jersey attorney-counselor distinction is abolished, 65.
Responsibility of the lawyer to his profession, by Robert F. Drinan, 192-195.
The practice of law (letter), by J. F. Kottnauer, 68.
Professional Ethics and Discipline
A debt of honor (letter), by Carl L. Shipley, 207
The case for the clients' security fund, by Theodore Voorhees, 155-158.
Vermont bar adopts indemnity plan, by Sterry R. Waterman, 128.

Legal Organizations and Activities

American Bar Association—Establishes new grievance procedure, 137.
Adopts resolution calling for non-partisan federal judiciary, 91-92.
American Judicature Society—Jenner, Segal to head, 76-77. New members, 35, 107, 143, 178, 214. Affairs, 149. Olney to address annual meeting, 5. Meetings in Pittsburgh, Miami, 185. Recent visitors, 100, 138, 173, 208. New subscription plan for Journal, 5. A beacon light (letter), by Daulat Ram Prem. Something of interest (letter), by Harry D. Nims.
Bar Organization
New Jersey—Bar integration movement comes to halt, 30.
Wisconsin—Success of integrated bar pleases lawyers and public, 30-31. Supreme court makes it permanent, 170-171. Supreme court's opinion on integration of bar, 196-199.
Bar Activities
Bench and bar calendar, 32, 66, 102, 140, 174, 209.

Amendment to the Judicial Code", by M. Minnette Massey. University of Miami Review, Fall, 1958, pp. 63-68. (An effort to combat court congestion.)

"Effect of Court Administrative Procedures in Wayne County", by Jeptha W. Schureman. The Detroit Lawyer, December, 1958, pp. 143-145. (Pre-trial procedures cut delay.)

"Arbitration: An Obvious Solution To A Crowded Docket", by Harry J. Dworkin. Ohio State Bar Association Report, December 29, 1958, pp. 1124-1131.

"Los Angeles Court Uses Written Pre-Trial Statements, Non-Jury Panel of Judges, Standard Jury Charges As Major Measures To Cut Calendar Delay. Writer Suggests Possible Adoption in Cuyahoga County", by Hon. William L. Thomas. The Journal of the Cleveland Bar Association, November, 1958, pp. 3, 11-16.

"The Judicial Council of Florida", by Elwyn Thomas. Federal Rules Decisions, October, 1958. (The Council has effectively met the challenge of proposing improvements of the judicial process to the state legislature.)

"Ten Years of Progress: The Conference of Chief Justices", by John R. Dethmers. American Bar Association Journal, January, 1959, pp. 47-49, 97. (The work of the Conference for the first ten years of its existence is summarized, and some of the major problems facing the courts now are discussed.)

Jury

"Should Instructions Go Into the Jury Room?", by Thomas J. Cunningham. Journal of the State Bar of California, May, June, 1958, pp. 278-289. (California should adopt legislation to make instructions available in the jury room in civil cases as is now done in criminal cases.)

"The Jury, The Law, and The Personal Injury Damage Award", by Harry Kalven, Jr. The University of Chicago, The Law School Record, vol. 7, no. 2, pp. 6-1, 55. (Damages even more than negligence itself is law written by the jury.)

---

Index to Volume 42

Previous volumes of the Journal are indexed in two separately-printed cumulative indices, one covering Volumes 1 through 20 and another covering Volumes 21 through 40. Copies of these will be mailed without charge upon request. The second is now in preparation, and announcement will be made in the Journal when it is ready for distribution.

Authors

Alessandroni, Walter E.—Philadelphia experience with arbitration, 25-27.
Allison, Junius L.—He needs a lawyer now, 113-119.
Bohan, L. Stewart—New hope for Connecticut court reorganization, 126-127.
Chandler, Henry P., Edward B. McConnell, and Leland L. Tolman, as reported by Eleanor R. Batson—Administering the courts—federal, state and local, 13-19.
Childs, Richard S.—Fewer coroners in Michigan (letter), 175.
Cobb, Charles W, Jr.,—Minority races on the bench (letter), 207.
Coogan, Robert A.—Security of tenure for judges is Rhode Island bar project, 127-128.
Cooley, Rita W.—The Department of Justice and judicial nominations, 86-90.
Demer, Robert J.—270 insurance companies arbitrate inter-company claims, 92-94.
Drinan, Robert F.—The responsibility of the lawyer to his profession, 192-195.
Editorials—Defending our boundaries, 3-4. Judicial selection is fundamental, 39-40. The Women Voters, 111. 1959—a banner year for judicial reform, 147-148. Above suspicion, 148-149. Professional responsibility, 149. Law, liberty and weightlessness, 183. Virginia celebrates advent of common law, 184.
Eulenberg, Alexander—Lawyers and jury service (letter), 68.
Field, Richard H.—State-wide procedural reform—how to go about it, 120-124.
Grayson, L. A.—Counsel for the indigent defendant (letter), 207-208.
Harley, Herbert—Quotation and photograph, 72.
Hoover, J. Edgar—F.B.I. strives to protect the individual's rights (letter) 207.
Jones, William—What constitutes a state? (poem) 108.
Journal of Commerce, Seattle—A service of inestimable value (guest editorial), 41.
Karas, Jonathan—Science in court, 186-191, 195.
Kaufman, Irving R. Pre-trial in criminal cases, 150-154, 173.
Kenison, Frank R.—New Hampshire gets probate rules, abolishes justice court jurisdiction, 126.
Kohn, Louis A.—Modern courts for Illinois, 42-51.
Kottnauer, J. F. The practice of law (letter), 68.
Kurland, Philip B.—The distribution of judicial power between national and state courts, 159-164.
Laws, Bolitha J.—Quotation and photograph, 144.
Lincoln, Abraham—Quotation and drawing, 180.
Lindemann, Harry W.—Juvenile court publicity and the Campanella case, (guest editorial), 184-185.
Medina, Harold R.—On judicial retirement, 24-25.
Million, Elmer M.—The Lounsberry will, (letter), 104.
Nims, Harry D.—Something of interest (letter), 208.
Olney, Warren III—The administrative office of the United States courts, 78-85.
Opheim, Charlotte J.—More on judicial selection in Sweden (letter) 67.
Prem, Daulat Ram—A beacon light (letter), 175.
Shipley, Carl L., A debt of honor, (letter), 207. Judges and politics (letter), 103-104.
Simmons, David A.—Quotation and photograph, 216.
Stewart, Thomas B.—A model judiciary for the 49th state, 52-53 & 56-59
Sullivan, Thomas P.—Public defender before indictment (letter), 175.
Uhlenhopp, Harvey—Selection of chief justices, 22-24.
Utley, Clifton M.—To practice better democracy (guest editorial), 40-41.
Vogl, Albert L.—Checks and balances (letter), 103.
Voorhees, Theodore—The case for the clients' security fund, 155-158.
Walsh, Walter E.—Alaska's opportunity (letter), 68.
Warren, Earl—Delay and congestion in the federal courts, 6-12.
Washington Post and Times-Herald—Bigger penalties for the poor (guest editorial), 112.
Waterman, Sterry R.—Vermont bar adopts indemnity plan, proposes judicial selection change, 128.
Winters, Glenn R.—See editorials.
Wright, Elias A.—A step in the right direction (letter), 103.

Lawyers

Legal education
Stason proposes four-year law curriculum, 63.
Professional responsibility, editorial, 149.
The Practice of Law
Abraham Lincoln, quotation and drawing, 180.
New Jersey attorney-counselor distinction is abolished, 65.
Responsibility of the lawyer to his profession, by Robert F. Drinan, 192-195.
The practice of law (letter), by J. F. Kottnauer, 68.
Professional Ethics and Discipline
A debt of honor (letter), by Carl L. Shipley, 207
The case for the clients' security fund, by Theodore Voorhees, 155-158.
Vermont bar adopts indemnity plan, by Sterry R. Waterman, 128.

Legal Organizations and Activities

American Bar Association—Establishes new grievance procedure, 137.
Adopts resolution calling for non-partisan federal judiciary, 91-92.
American Judicature Society—Jenner, Segal to head, 76-77. New members, 35, 107, 143, 178, 214. Affairs, 149. Olney to address annual meeting, 5. Meetings in Pittsburgh, Miami, 185. Recent visitors, 100, 138, 173, 208. New subscription plan for Journal, 5. A beacon light (letter), by Daulat Ram Prem. Something of interest (letter), by Harry D. Nims.
Bar Organization
New Jersey—Bar integration movement comes to halt, 30.
Wisconsin—Success of integrated bar pleases lawyers and public, 30-31. Supreme court makes it permanent, 170-171. Supreme court's opinion on integration of bar, 196-199.
Bar Activities
Bench and bar calendar, 32, 66, 102, 140, 174, 209.

Counsel for the indigent defendant (letter), by L. A. Grayson, 207-208.
Defending our boundaries, editorial, 3-4.
Federal Bar Association plans Washington law center, 137.
He needs a lawyer now, by Junius L. Allison, 113-119.
Ohio—Campaign under way for new legal center, 101, 104.
Public defender before indictment (letter), by Thomas P. Sullivan, 175.
Virginia—Celebrates advent of common law, 184.

Judges

Selection and Tenure
A service of inestimable value (guest editorial), Journal of Commerce, Seattle, 41.
Alaska—A step in the right direction (letter), by Elias A. Wright, 103. Legislature passes enabling act for judiciary, 202.
Arizona—Judicial selection reform moves ahead, 165-166.
California—Selection, removal of judges on legislative program, 168.
Court reform measures are introduced, 205.
District of Columbia—Judges and politics (letter), by Carl L. Shippley, 103. Minority races on the bench (letter), by Charles W. Cobb, Jr., 208.
Federal—A.B.A. adopts resolution calling for non-partisan federal judiciary, 91-92. The Department of Justice and judicial nominations, by Rita W. Cooley, 86-90.
Illinois—To practice better democracy (guest editorial), by Clifton M. Utley, 40.
Indiana—Judicial selection reform moves ahead, 165.
Iowa—Progress report, 62. Iowa bench and bar join in sponsoring judicial article revision, 166. Judicial selection reform moves ahead, 166. Court plan wins approval of senate, 204.
Judicial selection is fundamental, editorial, 39-40.
Kansas—Plan goes to voters, 95. Approved by voters, 128-129. Judicial selection reform moves ahead, 165. Statute implements judicial selection amendment, 201.
Massachusetts—Judicial selection reform moves ahead, 165.
Minnesota—Judicial selection in, 133.
Missouri—Legislature considers extension of plan, 205.
Nebraska—Moves ahead, 165.
New York—Judicial selection in, 133.
1959—A banner year for judicial reform, editorial, 147-148.
North Carolina—Governor supports bar's court program, 204.
Ohio—Selection plan introduced in legislature, 202.
Oregon—Moves ahead, 165.
Pennsylvania—Commission recommends Pennsylvania plan, 203.
Rhode Island—Security of tenure is bar project, 127. Selection reform, 165.
Sweden—More on judicial selection in (letter), by Charlotte Johnson Opheim, 67.
Vermont—Proposes judicial selection change, 128. See also, 133.
Uhlenhopp discusses selection of chief justices, 22-24.

Judicial Ethics
Above suspicion, editorial, 148.
California—Judicial bias measure upheld, 99.
More about Moses and his rod, 67.

Judicial Compensation and Retirement
Fee-supported justice must go, editorial, 75-76.
New York chief judge is highest paid in nation, 64.
Judicial salary legislation (Kansas, Indiana, New York), 205.
Arizona voters approve retired judges' amendment, 133.
On judicial retirement, by Harold R. Medina, 24-25.

Courts

State Court Organization
Alaska—A model judiciary for the 49th state, by Thomas B. Stewart, 52-53, 56-59. Judicial article, constitution of Alaska, 54-55.
Alaska's opportunity (letter), by Walter E. Walsh, 68. Alaska legislature passes enabling act for judiciary, 202.
California—Court reform measures introduced, 205. Legislative program, 168.
Connecticut—New hope for court reorganization, by L. Stewart Bohan, 126-127. Anticipates early action on court bills, 167. Legislature votes to abolish justice of the peace courts, 200.
Florida—Trial court reorganization is under way, 200.
Illinois—Modern courts for Illinois, by Louis A. Kohn, 42-51. Victory in November is goal, 98. Judicial amendment apparently defeated despite huge affirmative vote, 130-131. Lawsuit will decide fate of amendment, 170. Awaits election contest decision, 205.
Iowa—Progress report, 62. Bench and bar join in sponsoring judicial article revision, 166. Plan wins approval of Iowa senate, 204.
Louisiana—Revision of appellate structure will go to voters, 30. Appellate structure is revised by constitutional change, 131.
New York—Two court plans will be offered to 1959 legislature, 132. Momentum builds up for court reform, 168. Court reorganization bill limited to metropolitan area passes legislature, 199-200.
North Carolina—Bar association endorses broad judicial reform program, 28-30. Plan goes to legislature this month, 167. Governor supports bar program, 204.
Oregon—Interim committee recommends many changes in courts, 169-170.
Wisconsin—Trying again for state court reorganization, 167. Newest plan outlined, 63. Legislature considers plan, 206.

Minor Courts
Colorado—Abolition of justice courts to be sought, 98.
Connecticut legislature votes to abolish justice courts, 200.
Fee-supported justice must go, editorial, 75-76.
New Hampshire abolishes justice court jurisdiction, by Frank R. Kenison, 126.
New Jersey bar favors consolidation of courts, 64.
North Carolina justices' amendment is defeated, 133.
Tennessee—General sessions courts replace justices, 201-202.

Court Administration
Administering the courts, federal, state and local, by Henry P. Chandler, Edward B. McConnell, Leland L. Tolman, reported by Eleanor R. Batson, 13-19.
The administrative office of the United States courts, by Warren Olney, III, 78-85.
Diversity jurisdiction, presiding judge bills passed, 63.
Louisiana court exercises supervisory power (letter), 68.
Uhlenhopp discusses selection of chief justices, 22-24.

Court Congestion and Delay
Attorney-general's conference, 20-27. Recommendations, 60-61.
Average trial delay down in state courts, 97-98.
California—Court congestion on legislative program, 168.
Cleveland—More judges proposed, 29-30.
Federal—Delay and congestion in the federal courts, by Earl Warren, 6-12. New official to study federal court congestion, 65.
Massachusetts auditor system clears congested courts, 124-126.
Philadelphia experience with arbitration, by Walter E. Alessandroni, 25-27. Arbitration clears Phila. backlog, 203.
Oregon approves amendment authorizing pro tem judges, 131. Lawyers must pay for law's delay, 99.
News briefs from everywhere in the fight against congestion and delay, 171.
Distribution of judicial power between national and state courts, by Philip B. Kurland, 159-164.
Juvenile court publicity and the Campanella case, by Harry W. Lindemann, 184.
New A.B.A. section of family law gets under way, 136.
1959—A banner year for judicial reform, editorial, 147-148.
270 insurance companies arbitrate intercompany claims, by Robert J. Demer, 92-94.

Procedure

State-wide procedural reform—how to go about it, by Richard H. Field, 120-124.
California—Procedure on legislative program, 168.
Chicago circuit, superior courts get uniform rules, 203.
Lawyers do not understand certiorari, Harlan says, 137.
Maryland group urges laws to guard rights of witnesses, 136.
New Hampshire gets probate rules, 126.
New York—Procedural reform takes spotlight, 29.
Science in court, by Jonathan Karas, 186-191, 195.

Criminal Procedure
Bigger penalties for the poor, Washington Post, 112.
Coroners—Fewer coroners in Michigan (letter) by Richard S. Childs, 175. Lawyers, doctors lead attack on coroner system, 134-135.
Delaware abolishes capital punishment, 96.
F.B.I. strives to protect individual's rights (letter), by J. Edgar Hoover, 208.
He needs a lawyer now, by Junius L. Allison, 113-119.
Indeterminate sentence bill is passed by Congress, 99.
Murdered corpse discovered at medico-legal seminar, 135.
Review of sentencing procedure is suggested, 65.

Pre-Trial Procedure
Brennan urges pre-trial in all federal civil cases, 99.
Michigan—Mandatory pre-trial in all courts, 64.
Pre-trial in criminal cases, by Irving R. Kaufman, 150-154.

Jury Trial
Juror finds irregularities in jury selection, 139.
Juror handbooks approved in recent court decisions, 171-172.
Lawyers and jury service (letter), by Alexander Eulenberg, 68.
Six-member juries tried in Massachusetts district court, 136.
Summer jury trials successful in Chicago, 99.

Appellate Procedure
District of Columbia court will hear appeals on original papers, 137.
Newspapers protest "judicial dumping," 137.

Miscellaneous

A page of late news at press time, 179, 215.
Back cover photographs—A bequest, 36. Herbert Harley, 72. Sir William Jones, What constitutes a state? 108. Bolitha J. Laws, 144. Abraham Lincoln, 180. David A. Simmons, 216.
Checks and balances (letter), by Albert L. Vogl, 103.
Law, liberty and weightlessness, editorial, 183.
The Lounsberry will (letter), by Elmer M. Million, 104.
The literature of judicial administration, 33-34, 69-70, 141-142, 176-177, 210-212.